FACILITATOR INFORMATION

AIM

The aims of this workshop are:

- To upskill Unit Commanders and train the Unit Volunteer Coordinator in what is required to fill the role.
- To provide practical tools and planning assistance for the implementation of Volunteering Reimagined at Unit Level – recruiting, leading and managing and retaining all volunteer types.
- To further inspire and engage participants in the Volunteering Reimagined message, providing opportunities to develop a deeper understanding of its relevance to other long term strategic goals.

WHO CAN DELIVER THIS WORKSHOP

This workshop has been developed to be delivered by a facilitator. NSW SES defines a facilitator as someone who can guide members through their learning. They are positive role model who demonstrate sound understanding and knowledge of NSW SES and in particular knowledge of Volunteering in their unit/zone.

Facilitators are not required to hold Skills Trainer or Assessor qualifications. Nor do they need to be endorsed in this workshop.

USING THIS GUIDE

This Guide has been developed to assist you and other facilitators to deliver this workshop within your unit or zone. The guide is:

- Delivered in small sessions.
- Flexible and allows you to draw upon your own knowledge, skills and experience and contextualise to meet the needs of the new members.
- Delivery of this program can be achieved in a number of ways:
 - small groups
 - large groups with more than one facilitator

PRE-REQUISITES

There are no pre-requisites for this workshop.

SPECIAL NEEDS / REASONABLE ADJUSTMENT

Facilitators need to be sensitive to the requirements of learners with special needs. This may mean modifying activities or providing someone that can assist them with their learning needs.

10. Recruitment - Why do people volunteer?

Explain: Australian communities have always rallied to respond to threats and help each other in times of disaster and emergency.

We volunteer as individuals, households, formal and informal groups.

The number of volunteers working in Emergency Management Organisations is estimated at more than 500,000.

Research shows we come together and are more cohesive than normal, working together to overcome challenges, meet local needs, help ourselves and those around us.

In the main EM Volunteers are looking to play a part in responding to threats to their community and are motivated by a strong desire to help others.

It is important to recognise that our motivations for volunteering are diverse but in the main altruistic.

This is of course a generalisation so it is important to build on this information and ask 'what has motivated you to volunteer with us?' when you engage with new and existing volunteers. Their response will help you start developing a picture of the volunteers' individual motivations and what they are seeking to achieve.

Refer to page ?? of the workbook - see table on motivations and categories of membership.

At this point it's important to recognise that there are a small percentage of people who volunteer with the motive to exploit (people, resources or power) and this is an understandable concern. From a risk management perspective; an assessment of likelihood, consequences and control measures should inform decision making. Unit Commanders have decision making authority in cases where a volunteer is deemed a safety risk. Containing risk is a strategy we will discuss during the Leadership and Management topic.

What has changed?

The landscape of volunteering has changed due many factors including large scale socio economic changes & advances in technology. The nature of work has changed, the structure and capacity of families around free time has changed and we are more connected by technology. Technology is allowing more of the population to experience a first person view of disasters and in this way they are feeling more connected to the response. And the disaster risk is changing and increasing due to population growth, urban development and climate change.

Duration
Approximately 15 minutes

Key Statement:

As a result of all these changes; Leaders in Emergency Management can expect to engage with a much wider and more diverse range of volunteers than in the past.

Volunteering Reimagined Repositioning: Volunteering Reimagined breaks down barriers between the community and the NSW SES around preparation, response and recovery. The creation of new membership categories opens up opportunities for the NSW SES and the Community to work more closely together at every stage.

Key Statement:

As an ideal the community and the NSW SES are working in partnership with a wide cross section of the community in preparing for, responding to and recovering from floods, storm and tsunami.

Volunteering Reimagined provides this flexibility & when partnered with our strong systems around safety, training and operational management; we are perfectly positioned to enhance our service capability into the future.

9. Title Slide Recruitment

Explain: At the completion of this topic we will:

- Understand why people volunteer and the different options available.
- Explore what is needed through analysis of relevant information.
- Understand ways to source and approach new volunteers.
- Map a plan for recruitment.

Duration
Approximately 5 minutes

SESSION 3 INTRODUCTION TO RECRUITMENT

SESSION 4 MORNING BREAK

SLIDES

11. Activity 2

Introduce Activity: In your teams, discuss the following questions and summarise your answers on butchers paper:

1. How do you feel about the new options for people to volunteer in different ways?
2. What are your concerns about people volunteering in new ways?
3. How would you describe the benefits of the new volunteering options.

Advice for Facilitators:

Participants have 10 minutes to complete this activity. Monitor teams discussion and progress. Give a reminder of time if the team needs to move to the next question in order to meet the timeframe.

Encourage relevant discussion, realign to topic if the discussion is off track. Take note of good points and ensure these come out when you provide an overview of the teams responses.

Note:

Facilitators will provide the summary of responses on the butcher's paper for each team. (this ensures timely, relevant comment on what was discussed and noted). Subsequent facilitators will take note not to repeat points already noted by other teams if possible.

Summarise:

Summary from all facilitators should take 5 minutes in total – short and sharp. Reassure that we will address as many of these points as we can during the course.

(Facilitators – place these on the wall and where possible refer back to them as they become relevant during the course).

Duration

Approximately
15 minutes

FACILITATOR TIPS

During the morning break session, the aim is to encourage learners to get to know each other and network with other participants while gaining insights with targeted questions.

SESSION OUTCOMES

Provide an experience which allows participants to:

- Meet someone new
- Practice networking skills
- Talk about motivations for joining NSW SES
- Gain insights into why others joined

Estimated Duration

Please allow 15 minutes to complete this session.

DISCUSSION POINTS

Ask

Participants to talk to one person they don't know during the Morning Break and discuss: "what motivated you to join NSW SES?". Summarise on a post it note, write your name to the bottom corner and add it to the butcher's paper on the wall. Ask participants to review others responses as they return from Morning Break and take note of the range of motivations.

Explain

On completion of the morning break, read out some of the motivations. Explain that although each are unique, most are related to helping people. It is important to know what peoples motivations are so that you can provide meaningful opportunities.

Look for

Interaction between participants who haven't met yet, a variety of motivations, ways to group motivations together.

SESSION 5

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session is focussed on demonstrating one of the key goals of the range of volunteering options – to involve a more of our communities in the work we do. The aim is to motivate participants to understand how they can benefit from involving a wider range of volunteers.

The session also includes a brief pause and Segway to the next Session.

SESSION OUTCOMES

At the completion of this session, participants will understand;

- How the volunteering options provide access to more community members.
- Opportunities that may work at their Unit.
- The benefits of being more flexible in our approach.
- What we have covered so far and what is next.

Estimated Duration

Please allow 20 minutes to complete this session.

13. Volunteering Options

Explain: Let's now look at how the new volunteering options provide us with new ways to resource our Units so that we can work in a way that enables us to create a partnership with our Community.

Imagine the circle represents the Community we live in:

Click Slide: To reveal Unit Volunteer.

Unit Volunteer

In the past we have recruited for Unit Volunteers, often requiring people to fit a fairly rigid model of attendance and training. In this way – we could only access a small portion of our community.

Duration

Approximately
15 minutes

SLIDES (continued)

Unit Volunteer

We can now offer Unit Volunteers more flexibility in how they volunteer with us by considering each individual's currency, capability, contribution and training.

Click Slide: To reveal a bigger slice labelled 'Unit Volunteer'

Remember members' commitment to the unit cannot be defined solely on their attendance. While this is a very important requirement for some roles and a routine often enjoyed by members, we can all benefit from welcoming other diverse contributions & demonstrations of commitment. New training options will also enable greater flexibility into the future.

Click Slide: To reveal CAT.

CAT Volunteer

CAT teams are usually meeting a specific need, so the requirements for these groups are generally specific to the role they undertake. The possibilities are very broad, some examples include: Geographic: Flood Plain CAT, Isolated Community CATs.

Click Slide: To reveal Spontaneous

Spontaneous Volunteer

Spontaneous volunteers can assist us when we/our communities need 'extra help'. Their commitment is finite and the tasks they undertake can vary from general to specialised depending on the situation, their skill set and the requirements of the role.

The dotted line here indicates two common differences we see in Spontaneous Vols. The smaller portion is those that you will pre-plan for and utilise at Unit Level and the larger portion represents those occasions where we see very large groups such as Lismore Helping Hands.

Click Slide: To reveal Corporate

Corporate Volunteer

Corporate partnerships facilitate Corporate Volunteer Membership. The range of possibilities is huge – industry type, to scale of workforce and a myriad of specialist skills and capabilities. At present these are facilitated with support from Regional Headquarters.

Key Statement: Each Category of Volunteering provides us with access to more of our Community members. There is greater scope to become involved with NSW SES and more opportunity to create a sense of Partnership with the broader community.

Advise: Further details on the Categories of Volunteering can be found in your workbook.

13. Pause Review

We have now explored WHY and HOW people volunteer with NSW SES. Next we will move on and have a look at recruitment NEEDS

Duration

Approximately
5 minutes

SESSION 6 RECRUITMENT NEEDS

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session provides participants with a simple process which will assist them to – define what needs to be done, creating a role description. This session introduces the need to match tasks, skills and knowledge – with people and explores the idea that the people resourcing could be from a variety of volunteer types. The activity in this session aims to kick start their implementation planning.

SESSION OUTCOMES

At the completion of this session, participants will:

- Document what needs to be done at their Unit – task list.
- Develop one role based on the task list.
- Make a start on implementation planning.

Estimated Duration

Please allow 45 minutes to complete this session.

17. Pause

Pausing for a moment: we have now looked at why and how people can volunteer and matched this up with information about what we actually need.

Take a moment to write some tasks into your action plan:

- What is relevant so far to take back to the unit.
- How can you convert what you have explored into meaningful tasks which will progress your implementation plan.

Next up we will look at the range of recruitment options we can use to find these people.

Duration
Approximately
10 minutes

SLIDES

15. Determining Needs

Explain: The first step of recruitment is; to define what needs to be done. We do this by creating a role description, outlining TASKS & associated SKILLS & TRAINING.

Most Units have clear role descriptions for positions such as: Unit Commander, Admin Officer, Rescue Officer, Team Leaders etc...

These have been created by grouping a set of tasks together – then mapping the skills/knowledge and training required to execute the tasks.

Key Statement: Using this process, we can scale roles up and down in size and also match people to roles by either looking at the tasks involved or the skills and knowledge needed.

Refer: To the EXAMPLE on the slide.

Duration
Approximately
5 minutes

SESSION 7

RECRUITMENT OPTIONS

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session explores the various options available to recruit volunteers and makes the link between who and what when determining how to recruit. This session also involves a break and pause to review what we have learned so far and what's next.

SESSION OUTCOMES

During this session, participants will:

- Explore recruitment options.
- Link what and who into their decision making.
- Practice choosing a recruitment option.
- Network with someone new.
- Review learning so far.

We will now look at some tips, tricks and highlights to kick off your Recruitment plan.

SESSION 8 RECRUITMENT TIPS, TRICKS & HIGHLIGHTS

22. Brand Messaging

Ask: (pre-empt with saying, I'm going to ask you some questions; there are no wrong answers or recriminations here. Answer honestly based on where things stand at this moment).

- In your experience, does the Community know what we do?
- Have you ever been asked how we are going with fighting the fires?
- Ever been mistaken for a paid employee?

(The general consensus at this point is likely to be: NO many members of the Community have limited understanding of our role and purpose)

- Does everyone in your Unit know our Combat role, Vision and Mission?
- What about your Unit... if you were asked what your Unit does, could you sum it up in a few sentences & create some interest?

Duration

Approximately
10 minutes

SLIDES (continued)

Conclude: Our ability to quickly and clearly convey who we are and what we do is a really important part of recruitment.

We must undertake PREPARATION so that we are ready to explain:

- What the NSW SES does AND
- What our Unit does AND
- Why Volunteering with NSW SES is AMAZING

Brainstorm: Brainstorm as a group how we can make sure you can convey (refer to PP 1,2,3) (ask participants to write Action Items during this brainstorm).

Look for responses including:

- Have all members learn the Vision and Mission, create a brief paragraph about what your Unit does & learn it, use the resources of Brand Online, share stories about what your Unit members enjoy about Volunteering, Read the Support Pack and understand the concept of VRI.

23. Link to Industries

Explain: To reduce the time and effort required for training/skill & knowledge building... Link roles to industries or workplaces where capability already exists.

Brainstorm: Let's generate some ideas now:
(Facilitator to allocate a scribe to write responses on butchers paper)

1. You need someone to assist with writing communication pieces for the local paper, newsletter and social media. (local Journalist).
2. You are looking for someone to Manage Catering for the Unit when you are Operational (chefs, kitchen & restaurant staff).
3. You need someone to help you develop your Recruitment plan (Human resources staff).
4. You need someone to deliver Community Engagement presentations (Trainers, teachers).

Think about what industries, workplaces, businesses are in your area and what skills/knowledge do they have which could be leveraged by the unit. Truck drivers for Light Heavy licencing, Riggers working at heights.

SESSION 10

TRAINING (FAQS, REQUIREMENTS & RISK MANAGEMENT)

SLIDES (continued)

- VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE: Early on in our volunteering journey it is especially important to create a positive experience. We explore 4 simple steps which can help.
- COMMUNICATION: Tweaking our communication and updating our operational communication plans will be required to address some of the characteristics of the new Categories of Volunteering. We will talk about what we are communicating, when we are doing it and how to improve.
- BRIEFING AND DEPLOYMENT: Using SMEAC.
- DELEGATING: A key to utilising the wider range of resources we will have available is effective delegation. It is a skill that takes practice so we will talk about the steps needed to do it well. We also have a comprehensive range of support services we can refer to such as CISP, Chaplains, Mental Health Team – we will talk about ways to access and use this network to best effect.
- VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE: Interpersonal Conflict Management and Chain of Command.

28. Onboarding

Explain: Processes for onboarding new Volunteers vary depending on which Volunteering Category applies. Membership Procedures are the source of truth regarding onboarding.

Activity: Using the documents provided (Support Pack and Membership Procedures) create a list of steps which outline the process for onboarding and exiting a Spontaneous Volunteer who has come in to assist with writing social media content for the day. Use the space provided in the workbook to write down your process.

Advise: The support pack also contains numerous complimentary information sources

Duration

Approximately
20 minutes

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session begins our exploration of how to approach training for the various volunteering categories. The first Kahoot activity is intended to inject some fun and a light-hearted feel to checking the participants level of understanding around training and its impacts. This topic may be contentious due to its complexity and there may be some resistance to a more flexible approach. Aim to empower participants to make training decisions suited to the unique circumstances they face, using a Risk Management approach.

SESSION OUTCOMES

Provide an experience which allows participants to:

- Be informally assessed on current knowledge via FAQ Kahoot.
- Explore a Risk Management approach to training decision making.
- Practice applying Risk Management to training decision making.

Estimated Duration

Please allow 50 minutes to complete this session.

Duration

Approximately
20 minutes

30. Identifying Training Requirements

Explain: Some roles have clear training requirements which should be researched through the T&E Tab on EOS. Examples include current roles such as RCR Operator or Flood Rescue Tech L1.

Duration

Approximately
20 minutes

These requirements are mandated within the service already.

SESSION 11

TRAINING CONSIDERATIONS

SLIDES (continued)

Some changes which may require you to customise your approach to determining what training is required include; new roles, new ways that volunteers are engaged with us.

To ensure we are flexible, agile and responsive to the context of the situation we are operating within - it is ideal to take a Risk Management approach to determining requirements.

A Risk Management approach to determining training requirements requires consideration of the task or role being undertaken and the capability (skills & knowledge) of the person undertaking the task/role.

This should sound familiar – because we have already started detailing tasks and relevant skills/knowledge and training back in our recruitment planning.

Let's now work through one example and then you will each complete a couple of examples in your teams.

Handout: Training Risk Management ACTIVITY

Handout: Pathways infographic

31. Activity

Refer: To the example role on the slide and draw a quick risk matrix to identify what training requirements are needed to mitigate any risks associated with the role.

Reiterate: The importance of going through this process as a way to demonstrate your duty of care to volunteers who are working under your supervision. Involve Unit Trainers in these discussions.

Duration

Approximately
6 - 10 minutes

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session continues our exploration of the training topic, providing specific considerations for Spontaneous and CAT Volunteers. We mention RPL and options to provide training, then give participants the opportunity to practice the skills they have learned with a role play and brainstorming activity. Remember to stay positive and reinforce the benefits of flexibility as this topic may challenge some participants who are invested in the detailed nature of some of our traditional training requirements.

SESSION OUTCOMES

Provide an experience which allows participants to:

- Consider some specific requirements for Spontaneous and CAT Volunteers.
- Reflect on RPL and Options to provide training.
- Actively practice their assessment skills.
- Participate in a brainstorm of training options that would suit their Units needs.

Estimated Duration

33. Training Spontaneous Volunteers

Because the engagement and deployment of Spontaneous Volunteers can occur in a wide variety of ways, the risk mgmt. approach provides us with the flexibility we need to suit the situation.

Duration

Approximately
10 minutes

In addition to this role specific training, there are a number of important considerations to include in your decision making around what training is appropriate for SVs including:

- The level of understanding around our Service and Combat role.
- WHS and the hazards they may face.
- Boundaries, reporting and levels of responsibility.
- The volunteers work and life experience.
- Time restrictions (to do the work, to train, availability).

To address these specifically, we must ensure a thorough Briefing which includes these items.

SLIDES

34. Training Community Action Team Volunteers

Training for CATS will depend on their role and the existing capabilities of the volunteers involved.

Consider that formal training may or may not be required, although it will be important to develop their understanding of:

- NSW SES and Combat Role.
- Relevant Policy or Procedures eg: TARPS, Dispute Resolution.
- WHS and hazards they may face.
- Boundaries, reporting and level of responsibility.

Remember that training can also be fun and seen as a positive team building and professional development opportunity. If possible you could consider OFFERING training for this reason, rather than solely providing role based/essential training.

Duration

Approximately
10 minutes

35. Recognising Existing Skills and Experience

In the new volunteering landscape; the importance of recognising existing skills and experience quickly and effectively increases.

Increased flexibility in meeting training, currency, capability and contribution is expected for all Unit Members.

Discuss: Spontaneous Volunteers will come with a wide range of life and work experience – we need to assess this quickly.

CATs perform a specific role, how do we determine and recognise current skills and knowledge and provide for any gaps.

RPL Process is relevant for all volunteers but may not be practical for Spontaneous Volunteers during operations.

Note: keep risk management approach top of mind.

Duration

Approximately
5 minutes

SLIDES

36. Activity 7 Training

Explain: The following activity requires you to undertake some assessment of Volunteer skills and knowledge and come up with a recommendation for:

- What role would be most suitable.
- What training will be required &
- Any ways to recognise existing skills.

Note for Facilitators: Initiate a role play with your team, be cooperative with the team interviewing you and use the info provided on the EOI to guide you with your character. Look for the team to ask “what motivated you to join the NSW SES today” or something similar. Provide feedback on how they went & whether they are being OTT or under-evaluating the need for training/RPL.

Duration

Approximately
15 minutes

37. Options to Provide Training

There are numerous options available to provide ‘training’. As a rule use existing NSW SES material as a first option (if it is suitable).

Brainstorm: In your teams let’s do a quick brainstorm of training options. Make a list of how we could train people and what materials we could use.

Refer: At the completion of the brainstorm refer Learners to the workbook and review the page Options to Provide Training. Put brainstorm ideas up on the wall.

Duration

Approximately
15 minutes

SESSION 12

REFLECTION

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session is timed to conclude day one if all sessions are undertaken in sequence. Activities included in this session are group photo, silent learning reflection and farewell.

SESSION OUTCOMES

During this session, participants will:

- Have a group photo taken.
- Reflect on their learning and update their Action Plans.
- Prepare for tomorrow's sessions.

Estimated Duration

Please allow 45 minutes to complete this session.

SLIDES (continued)

- Work in silence for the next 15 minutes (focussing on reflection on what you learned).
- View the PowerPoint and note anything that stood out for you.
- Review your Recruitment Action Items and add any more that you feel are needed.
- Review the notes from around the walls and photograph or note anything you'd like to take home from that.
- Complete the feedback request.
- Think of one thing that you learned that was powerful for you, be ready to share with the group.
- Add any questions that have come up for you to the Parking Lot.
- Really, really try to be silent!!

A&L: Get up and walk around the room as needed.

C4: Silence & open Workbook to Action Items page when done.

S: We have come together today to explore the implementation of Volunteering Reimagined and upskill the Unit Commander and Volunteer Coordinator.

M: Our goal is to develop our skills and understanding and chart the path of implementation in each of our unique Units.

E: What we will do now, is spend some time reflecting on what we have learned so far. To achieve this what I'd like each of you to do is:

Duration

SESSION 13

VOLUNTEER ENGAGEMENT

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session focusses on two important features of successful volunteer engagement; creating a positive volunteer experience and briefing. The aim is to get participants thinking about how they can welcome new volunteers and make their early experiences positive in their Unit. The briefing part of this session highlights the importance of clear communication especially when engaging with a wide range of volunteers.

SESSION OUTCOMES

At the completion of this session, participants will understand;

- Work through a simple process to focus on positive early experiences.
- Start making a plan for Volunteer Experience in their Unit.
- Relate SMEAC to specific volunteer types.

Estimated Duration

Please allow 45 minutes to complete this session.

41. Title Slide

Welcome participants back. Provide a brief overview of what will be covered today.

Duration
Approximately 5 minutes

42. New Volunteer Experience

Explain: These four points are especially important early on. We want new volunteers to feel welcome and at ease in their new surroundings, so paying attention at some key points will help ensure our first impression is positive.

Ask:

- Ever turned up somewhere and had no-one acknowledge you?
- How does it feel to be in a room full of people and not be introduced to anyone?
- How awkward does it feel when you don't know where anything is or how things happen?

We can all agree; when someone is new this is a critical time to make them feel comfortable! Let's talk through each point now.

Duration
Approximately 10 minutes

SLIDES (continued)

1. Welcome and first impressions

Acknowledge people, welcome them by greeting and offering your assistance. SMILE, be the first to initiate contact & remember names. Keep the Unit tidy and if you are expecting a group of new people, think about; signage, tea/coffee station, seating and prepare any admin etc.. to reduce waiting.

2. Introductions

Introduce new members to others, they might not remember everyone but they will feel acknowledged. Use an elevator introduction to give people something to talk about. (Quickly role play this with the other facilitators) - e.g. "Jim, this is Sandy - Sandy has come in to help us with catering today" "Jim is a big fan of cakes so that's a sure way to keep him happy".

3. Buddying

You won't be with the new member all the time so hand over to a buddy as needed. Think who might be a good buddy by considering what the new member will be doing, who has similar interests, who has good people skills.

4. Hospitality

Involves getting new members up to speed quickly with; premises (toilets, kitchen, lockers etc.), people and processes (sign on, PPE etc.)

43. Briefing

In NSW SES we use the SMEAC format for briefings.

Handout: SMEAC.

Note: Remember when briefing Spontaneous Volunteers you will need to add some specific information.

- Context of the Operation (factual overview & what may be encountered).
- NSW SES role in the Operation.
- The SVs role including boundaries and limitations.
- Hours of work.
- Who is in charge and how this works.
- Self care and ongoing support (CISP).
- WHS considerations and duty of care.
- Policies the volunteer will be expected to adhere to (eg; TARPS).

A thorough explanation of boundaries and limitations is especially important for Spontaneous Volunteers to mitigate risks.

Duration
Approximately 30 minutes

SESSION 14

OPERATIONAL CONSIDERATIONS

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session covers specific considerations when operational. Spontaneous and CAT Volunteers introduce some different considerations when deploying, supervising, managing safety, handling logistics and debriefing. Given the nature of the work we do, supervision and safety management are likely to be of keen interest to participants. Advise participants we will have a 15 minutes table talk at the end of this session where we can talk through any specific examples or questions they have.

SESSION OUTCOMES

At the completion of this session, participants will understand;

- Explore supervision of Spontaneous Volunteers.
- Consider staging areas and commence planning for their Unit.
- Consider safety management at their Unit.
- Discuss Unit specific questions during a table talk.

Estimated Duration

Please allow 45 minutes to complete this session.

45. Supervision and Safety Management

Explain: A key priority of Supervision is Safety Management, specifically;

Duration
Approximately
5 minutes

1. Ensure awareness of relevant safety issues or considerations
2. Ask questions to check understanding of how to respond to safety issues.
3. Monitor safe work practices through observation.
4. Appoint or delegate someone to monitor safety in your absence.
5. Discuss safety in the AAR.

46. Activity 8 Logistics

Explain: A consideration during larger operations or when the volume of volunteer resourcing cannot be accommodated at the Unit HQ is a Staging Area.

Duration
Approximately
10 minutes

Handout: Staging Area Considerations.

Activity: Review considerations as a team and add any extras you can think of. Make a list of at least 3 facilities in your area which have potential as a Staging Area.

47. Debriefing AAR

We currently use the After Action Review format to conduct our debriefing and this process continues to be relevant and effective for all Categories of Volunteering.

The AAR Process provides opportunities to reflect on experience and identify challenges, improvements and successes.

During the AAR is also a good time to mention the support available such as CISP which volunteers may wish to access as a result of their experience.

Duration
Approximately
5 minutes

48. Table Talk

Advise: Participants that we will now participate in a Table Talk on the topics covered in this session. 'Your facilitator will answer any questions you have about how things will work in your Unit.'

Duration
Approximately
15 minutes

Note for Facilitators: Use this session time to draw out any concerns or questions your learners have and provide feedback on practical ways to implement in their Unit.

SLIDES

44. Deployment Spontaneous Volunteers

Explain: When we deploy SVs we must ensure that SUPERVISION is provided as a risk mitigation strategy. Supervision can be provided in a number of ways including;

- One on one – buddying.
- Team Leader and team of SVs.
- Team Leader and multiple teams of SVs.
- SV working within a team of Unit Volunteers.

The level of supervision needed will depend on the task being completed and the level of skill and experience the SV has.

A priority consideration for deployment of Spontaneous Volunteers is to utilise these volunteers in public spaces, in this way reducing the risks associated with being in private homes.

Duration
Approximately
10 minutes

SESSION 15

COMMUNICATION STRATEGIES

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session focusses on how communication can impact volunteering. A focus is on social media and how this form of communication can be leveraged.

The aim of this session is to motivate participants to review their communication strategies and invest resourcing as needed to improve outcomes at their Unit.

SESSION OUTCOMES

During this session, participants will:

- Watch YouTube clips demonstrating the reach of social media.
- Consider what to communicate and when.
- Explore key aspects of good communication.

Estimated Duration

Please allow 35 minutes to complete this session.

49. Communication Strategies

Play: Increase in Social Media Communication clip from YouTube (2010).

Ask: What are your observations following that clip?

Taking into consideration some of the characteristics of the new Categories of Volunteering – updating our Communication Strategies will assist us in engaging with people in new ways.

Communication before, during and after events about what we are doing and what we have done will become more important given the new variety of volunteer types and the ways they interact with us.

If you establish a CAT this becomes a new avenue for communication and for Spontaneous Volunteers the communication they receive before, during and after an event can have a major impact on how they engage with us.

Highlight: Traditionally much of our time and effort prior to an impending event is spent preparing ourselves and the Unit for response. Extending this focus to involve the Community in preparing alongside us is a hallmark of success in the new volunteering landscape.

Duration

Approximately
30 minutes

SLIDES (continued)

Activity: Facilitator to ask the questions of the group and have a scribe note down responses. Expected responses are listed in brackets after each question.

Let's now think about what we should be communicating before an event.

Ask: What should we be communicating before an event? (The role of the NSW SES, how they can assist themselves or prepare for an event, how to Volunteer with NSW SES, threats relevant to their location).

Ask: What should we be communicating during an event? (What we are doing, what response is occurring, number and type of jobs, volunteering opportunities, what people can do to help themselves).

Advise: We also need to monitor and gather communications from the Community during an event, how could we do this? (Monitor social media, talk with people in your networks, talk to crews coming back from jobs, go to key community locations and gather intel).

Ask: After an event, what should we be communicating? (Recognising efforts, response activities undertaken, thank you's, future Volunteering opportunities, connecting people with recovery services).

Remember: Communicate with words and images and engage Communication experts such as local journo or wordsmith as well as social media peeps to draft and post communications.

Play: Increase in Social Media Clip (2018).

Ask: What are your observations following this updated clip?

50. Communication Highlights

Read: The highlights listed on the slide.

- "If you don't tell me what you are doing, you are doing NOTHING".
- Communicate with words and images.
- Utilise communication experts.
- Allocate resources to Social Media.

Duration

SESSION 16

DELEGATING AND REFERRING

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session focusses on the importance of utilising the capability of volunteers and our Service referral network. Delegating is related to managing the workload of the Volunteer leaders and also providing meaningful work to others. NSW SES referral network is also explored as a resource to assist volunteers.

SESSION OUTCOMES

During this session, participants will:

- Consider the benefits of delegating.
- Explore a process to delegate effectively.
- Explore NSW SES referral network.
- Consider when the referral network could be used.

Estimated Duration

51. Delegating

We are going to talk about Delegating on two fronts now.

- Why and How.

Why:

- "You can't be good at everything."
- "Utilise the capability of others by delegating tasks matched to their strengths."
- "Delegating allows you to focus your efforts on your high priority tasks."

How:

- Define the outcomes sought and detail any required process or procedures to be followed.
- Create a brief SMEAC.
- Match the task with a person who has relevant capability and approach them to take on the task.
- Deliver SMEAC briefing.
- Check in, supervise or monitor as appropriate.
- Follow up at the completion of work and debrief performance against the outcomes sought.

Duration

Approximately
20 minutes

SLIDES (continued)

Explain: CATS will be delegated a range of tasks and roles and it is important that these are very clearly articulated in the agreement made between the CAT and the Unit.

Using a similar process in terms of checking in, supervising or monitoring the CAT and then reviewing this performance against the original agreement.

Explain: When we delegate to Spontaneous Volunteers we may need to add more information about the SES and our role as outlined in the information we covered during briefings.

Spontaneous Volunteers can be a great source of expertise and a good resource to delegate to. If when you are operational you find something that could be delegated to an expert, consider working this back into your recruitment plans for next time.

52. Referral Network

Explain: NSW SES has an excellent internal referral network & in relation to CAT and Spontaneous Volunteers – we need to ensure that we promote these services and refer as needed.

Duration

Approximately
10 minutes

CAT and Spontaneous Volunteers may not have had previous exposure or detailed understanding of the sometimes distressing situations which can arise (from injuries, to suffering and potentially death) as part of our work.

While we brief all members of this potential before deploying them, what they imagine and the reality of that experience could be different and there is potential for emotional distress or suffering.

Ask: What referral services does NSW SES offer? (have a scribe note these down for the whole group and put this list on the wall).

SESSION 17

VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE AND SUMMARY

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session covers how effective management of interpersonal conflict can improve the volunteer experience during operational conditions. The focus is on identifying and addressing situations quickly and effectively. This session also concludes the Leadership and Management Topic, with a summary of learnings included.

SESSION OUTCOMES

During this session, participants will;

- Explore how interpersonal conflict impacts volunteer experience.
- Practice how to handle interpersonal conflict.
- Review the Leadership and Management learnings.

54. Volunteer Experience during Operations

We have discussed a range of ways that we can contribute to a positive volunteer experience so far including;

- Effective briefings using SMEAC.
- Clear job roles.
- Supervision.
- Training.

We also need to understand that a broader volunteer mix will bring more connections (friendships, good working relationships) AND potentially more... (interpersonal conflict)

Our ability to quickly identify and effectively diffuse these situations will ensure everyone retains a focus on our Operational priorities.

Activity: Let's get practical now and work through some Case Studies as a group. Refer to page __ of the workbook.

RETENTION

SESSION 20

VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE

FACILITATOR TIPS

Retention is the final topic of the program. This brief session outlines what we will cover and provides a definition of retention. The definition provided may be different from what participants thought so there is potential for discussion on this. Aim to have participants develop an acceptance of retention as an individual measure.

SESSION OUTCOMES

- During this session, participants will;
- Be introduced to the topics covered in retention sessions.
 - Explore a definition of retention.

Estimated Duration

Please allow 15 minutes to complete this session.

58. Retention

Intro: Our final topic to explore is RETENTION and to do this we will work through:

- A definition of RETENTION: what does retention mean and how do we achieve it.
- Benefits NSW SES Offers: We will explore the benefits volunteers can gain through their engagement with us.
- Unit Volunteers: Specific things to consider around retaining Unit Volunteers and how the changes and increased flexibility can benefit them.
- CAT Volunteers: Specific ideas for these groups.
- Spontaneous Volunteers: Specific ideas for these volunteers.

Duration
Approximately 10 minutes

59. Retention Definition

Explain: Volunteer retention is the end result of a well organised, welcoming and meaningful volunteer engagement.

Refer to Slide: Retention is when a volunteer remains with you, for the period of time which they committed to when beginning service.

In this way retention is an individual measure and our goal is not to keep everyone forever. We must accept that a meaningful volunteering experience can be many different things. "Lots of things influence RETENTION, let's have a look at some of them now."

Duration
Approximately 5 minutes

FACILITATOR TIPS

During this session we explore a simple process to assist with providing a positive experience for all Volunteers. We also look at the variety of benefits available through volunteering with NSW SES. The aim is to encourage participants to reflect on the volunteer experience at their Unit and how to reap the many benefits associated with volunteering.

SESSION OUTCOMES

- During this session, participants will;
- Review the Volunteer Experience (VE) Process.
 - Determine actions they can take to make the process effective.
 - Describe benefits of volunteering.
 - Consider how benefits can be achieved.

60. Volunteer Experience

Explain: Our experience of Volunteering is arguably the most important factor of whether we stay or go. So what is our experience made up of?

It's not just the people we interact with, it's the systems and processes we deal with, the work we do and the feeling we get as a result of our experience.

The following simple process focusses our attention and effort on key areas aimed at making our whole experience positive.

Refer: to butchers paper (positioned on the walls at intervals around the room) with the following headings:

1. Provide genuine hospitality.
2. Understand volunteers motivation and interests.
3. Provide opportunities to help the community.
4. Recognise efforts with thank-you's and expressions of gratitude.
5. Maintain and ongoing connection through experiences and dialogue.

Duration
Approximately 30 minutes

SESSION 21

REIMAGINING VOLUNTEERING

SLIDES

Ask: A facilitator to act as scribe at each one and ask each team to move around the room in round robin fashion, until they have contributed to each heading. 'You will have 4 minutes at each heading, list as may tangible actions/things you could do to achieve this'. Start now.

Handout: Volunteer Experience Process

Compare the lists made on the butchers paper with the actions listed on the handout.

61. Volunteer Benefits

NSW SES is just one of many organisations competing for volunteers. What makes us special or attractive to volunteers?

A benefit is an 'advantage'. Depending on the person volunteering, different things will be important to them.

Consider now how 'Understanding volunteers motivation and interests' will help you to determine what benefits or advantages may be attractive to them.

Activity: Working in teams brainstorm on butchers paper, as many benefits of volunteering with the NSW SES as you can. Start with benefits that are personal to you and then think about others that you know of.

(Some common themes you could use to prompt this activity include: Establishing friendships, opportunities to socialise, developing skills/knowledge/capability, being recognised by the community, pride of service, training opportunities, personal development and growth, social interaction, feeling of self-worth and achievement.)

Reiterate: Use these benefits to remind you of what experiences your volunteers are looking for as part of their involvement in the NSW SES. Use these in your promotions and recruitment activities.

62. Break Activity

Talk with one person you don't know about: What do you enjoy about your Units meeting night? Summarise on a Post-it and add to the butchers paper.

Duration
Approximately 15 minutes

Duration
Approximately 15 minutes

FACILITATOR TIPS

This session focusses on the benefits to those currently volunteering with NSW SES. We explore using the flexibility available to all volunteers to improve the experience. We talk about challenging what we currently do and this could be confronting to some participants. This session needs to be motivational in focus, meaning it will be important to ensure volunteers don't feel like the message is change everything or we have been doing this wrong. Your goal is to get across the idea that it is healthy to re-evaluate (re-imagine) so that we can keep what is good and make improvements if we find opportunities.

SESSION OUTCOMES

- Provide an experience which allows participants to:
- Explore the information available about Volunteering Reimagined.

63. Unit Volunteers

Volunteering Reimagined has changed the way people can engage in the NSW SES, including existing volunteers.

It's a great opportunity to engage with more people, but also to stop and evaluate what we are currently doing and how we can improve, change or flex to make the experience more positive for existing Volunteers.

Since the VRI launch in September 2017, there has been a lot of communication including:

- The Support Pack.
- Communication pieces on FB Groups.
- Articles in Member Connect.
- Unit Visits and Presentations from the VRI Team.
- Presentations at Internal Events eg: Controllers Conferences.

Duration
Approximately 15 minutes

SESSION 22 RETENTION

SLIDES (continued)

It's really important to help our existing volunteers to see the benefits, understand why the changes have been made and their place in the new landscape.

Remember: More flexibility is available to Unit Volunteers too, meaning we can be less rigid and prescriptive in our approach to Capability, Commitment, Currency and Training.

- Ask UVs what their concerns are.
- Provide information to address their concern.
- Get in touch with VRI Team for more info.

64. Re-imagining Volunteering

INTRO: Taking the time to stop and evaluate what we do and why we do it, is a beneficial process which helps to ensure...

We don't just do things, because that is what we have always done.

Duration
Approximately
20 minutes

Explain: To re-imagine we need to challenge ourselves and ask some questions: (these questions are listed in their workbook).

- Do you have a good understanding of our Unit Volunteers interest and motivations?
- What traditions and routines are important to our Volunteers and why?
- How can we balance a range of commitment levels while meeting our Units capability requirements?
- How can we complement and enhance our Unit Volunteers involvement by engaging Spontaneous Volunteers or a CAT?
- What is the goal of our Meeting Night and what improvements could be made?
- How could we incorporate more opportunities to integrate, connect and engage the community in our work?
- What specific actions can we take to bring the Volunteer Experience process to life at our Unit?

To be successful remember to:

- Keep an open mind.
- Listen to new ideas and take time to consider them.
- Keep what you enjoy and has meaning.
- Let go of things that aren't aligned with what you are trying to achieve.
